2016 Budget Includes Increase to Northumberland Hills Hospital
Ontario Investing More Than $50 Billion In Health Care

As part of the 2016 Budget, Ontario is continuing to make greater investment in the Northumberland County health care system and across the province to give Ontarians faster access to the right care, now and in the future. In 2016-17, the government would be investing $51.8 billion in health care, including Northumberland Hills Hospital.

Provincial Highlights include:

- Investing more than $345 million in all publicly-funded hospitals, including a one per cent increase to global base funding.
- Creating more integrated, team-based primary care with an additional $85 million over three years to recruit and retain qualified primary care staff.
- An additional $130 million in cancer care services, over the next three years, allowing for the delivery of more services and preventive programs.
- Increasing funding by $250 million to expand capacity to deliver high-quality home and community care.
- Making the shingles vaccine free for eligible seniors aged 65 to 70, saving them about $170 in out-of-pocket expenses.
- As part of the 10-year Mental Health and Addictions Strategy, investing an additional $4 million for 248 new supportive housing units.
- Investing an additional $75 million in community-based hospices and palliative care, for a total investment of about $155 million over three years.
- Increasing annual funding for Behavioural Supports Ontario by $10 million, building on base funding of $44 million and other substantial increases the government has made in long-term care homes since 2003/04.
- Keeping Ontarians healthy by using $5 million of increased revenues from new tobacco tax to support investments to enhance priority populations' access to smoking cessation services.

Through recent actions to transform health care, the province has increased patients' access to primary care, provided more care for people at home, and reduced wait times for surgeries, diagnostic procedures and emergency department care.

Increased investment in health care is part of the government's plan to build a better Ontario through its Patients First: Action Plan for Health Care, which provides patients with faster access to the right care; better home and community care; the information they need to live healthy; and a health care system that is sustainable for generations to come.

QUOTES

Community hospitals are a key component of Ontario's health care system. This additional investment in Northumberland Hills Hospital acknowledges the important role that the hospital plays in the health of our community and the difference that the board, physicians, staff and volunteers make in the lives of their patients every day.

— Lou Rinaldi, MPP Northumberland-Quinte West

“With this new and important funding, we are working to ensure that patients in Northumberland County have faster access to the right care, now and in the future. Making these necessary investments in our health care system is part of our commitment to put patients first by ensuring they get the high-quality health care they need – when they need it.”

— Dr. Eric Hoskins, Minister of Health and Long-Term Care

“The province's economic plan supports strong public services in communities across Ontario. The plan reinforces one of the most important provincial services on which Ontarians rely – health care. The 2016 Budget supports continued commitments to increase patients' access to primary care, to provide more care for people at or close to home and to help all Ontario families continue to receive quality health care.”

— Charles Sousa, Minister of Finance

“The Central East Local Health Integration Network works with its hospitals, community-based agencies, mental health and addictions providers, long term care homes, hospice and primary care partners to ensure that local residents have access to an integrated sustainable health care system. Today's funding announcement supports the ongoing delivery of vital acute care services in Northumberland County as the hospital and its partners work together to improve the health and well-being of their communities.”

— Margaret Risk, Acting Chair, Central East LHIN Board of Directors

“On behalf of Northumberland Hills Hospital (NHH) I thank the Ministry of Health and Long-Term Care, the Central East LHIN and our local MPP Lou Rinaldi for this important investment in local health care. As our recent external operational review confirmed, additional base funding for NHH is very much needed. The investment announced today will be of great benefit to our hospital operations in 2016/17 and we look forward to continuing to work together in the days ahead to place NHH on solid long-term financial footing.”

— Jack Russell, Chair, Northumberland Hills Hospital Board of Directors
